FARMVILLE.

There has been suffering in Farmville during the severe cold spell Not more so than in other places of like size, but with the poor "always with us;" some deserving poor but not all, so I am satisfied that there would be no cold hearth stone in town if the money spent at the dispensary was made to buy coal and wood. Whiskey first and wood if it can be had after the dram. It is the old story repeated with the coming and going years.

The rattle of the coal wagon is abroad in the town, but this in due time will be followed by the ringing of the ice bell.

We are not rich in blooming bed just now, but there is a wealth of ferns and other evergreens in many of our homes.

Times are prosperous, it may be, but all people are not eating as many oysters as of yore. We miss the "turnip tops" when the snow covers the ground. But the snow will melt and the salad will come again.

The Spring prints shine out in our store windows, but women of prudence are still wearing furs.

Our skaters have been enjoying that exilirating sport. There is no out door entertainment more glowing or graceful.

If we were better prepared for winter weather it would be well that the snow should cover the ground until Spring was ready with its resurrection work. With no covering for our grass and grain crops, the constant thawing and freezing do great damage, and yet I met with a fellow man the other day who had spent his life with the blizzards of the North-west, who working in the sunlight of a perfect winter day in Virginia, said, "this is simply glorious." Now if this man will only cultivate Virginia land under the direction of successful Virginia farmers he will continue to cry out "glorious" in summer and winter too.

As yet Commissioner Koiner has sent us no farm laborers, but we have room for a number of the right kind.

"Cox's Corner," one of the most noted and active business points on West 3rd Street, is now in the hands of the builders and many changes are being wrought there. The old factory on the south-west of the corner is being converted into a commodious store house and the present one will be made into the Cox residence. I have been predicting great things of the "Corner" for some time and am not surprised that the "hustle is on."

Dr. Millsdge of the Normal faculty will take in the Jamestown Exposition in compresensive style and will move with his family near the ground in the early summer.

Dunkum, the Hampden-Sidney hackman, looks cold when he drives into town these morning, but is always grateful that he has the Macdam rather than the old mud way.

Prince Edward is making advances on the line of road improvement, and Green Bay is leading in the movement.

I met with a farmer the other day who was bitter in his opposition to the free rural mail routes. I confess to great surprise. I had labored under the impression that mail and telephone conveniences were highly valued by all dwellers in the country.

Our doctors who pay country visits in mid-winter earn their fees.

So far as I know there has been no freeze up at the dispensary during the cold snap, but the liquid groceries and the money has continued to flow freely.

Our thermometers differ widely during the cold snap tho' two below was the lowest reported. Such weather is rather too much for us as we do not make preparation for it either in our houses or modes of dress. We can all have "ice-cold lemonade" during the summertime.

I saw one of our expert house keepers the other day] from the country and she said her hens were 'behaving beautifully,' notwithstanding the cold. That encouraged the hope that when the spring opens we will have cent-a-piece-eggs. I had supper with a farmer friend recently and he had on his table a two-gallon pitcher of rich milk from which I drank to the "full." The happiest people in this old world of ours are those who drink milk from their own cows and water from their own springs. Rest may sometimes mean rest, but resting under one's own vine and fig tree is the one rational way of living this life. Let us indulge the hope that there is something better beyond, but it is not to be found here.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Cox entertained a number of friends on the occasion of their marriage anniversary. 'Ben' would'at tell me how many have come and gone.

Miss Snow, of the Normal faculty, is one of the most delightful of hostesses.

Misses Alice and Hattie Paulette were hostesses at a charming Valentine party on the evening of the 14th.

Mr. Branch McKinney, of Atlanta, Ga., has been with us of late on a business trip. He is a son of the late S. B. McKinney, and is leading business men in the city of his adoption and president of a large glass concern.

The post office plum is still being pulled at, but as yet it is uncertain as to who will be the successful puller. Mr. Garrett, it is said, has landed the plum.

The High school fever has struck the citizens of Rice and they are going to give the citizens of Green Bay a lively chase for the best, and with the high school comes the hope of better highways.

Let us hop the world is getting better notwithstanding the lively business over the dispensary counter. By the way a dispensary in each of our districts would in a few years macadamize all of our roads. Farmville and Moberrin will not be allowed the monopoly much longer.

Men Past Sixty in Danger

More than half mankind over sixty years suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first signs of danger, as it corrects irregularites and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. A. Bolling Burnett, Lowry Port, Mo. writes: I suffered with enlargeprostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years although I am now 61 years old. Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

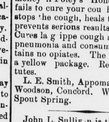
How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.



What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Many Interesting Reports Made of Her People.

Buckingham.

It is not the policy of this paper to puff any class of people or to give free advertising, but we must comment on what is going on that may be of benefit to our readers, so I went to the Buckingham Stage Show at Dillwyn and made an inspection of the tobacco that had been pooled and noted the prices. In the late grade of tobacco in the employ of the W. S. of E has been there and put the prices down one dollar in the hundred and notwithstanding this the prices are much better than have been paid on the market.

The bank at Dillwyn is still advancing 50 per cent of the price at which tobacco is priced and the planter's tobacco is hung up in a section of the warehouse factory with the owner's name placed on a tray marking his section. The managers have taken the precaution to insure, and they carry $10,000 on what is on hand. A man told me he hauled a load to Farmville for his neighbor and got only $10 more for the load than what the 50 per cent of the bank at Dillwyn would have advanced on it would have amounted to, and that the hauling cost $7 and then the warehouse charges had to be paid.

Mr. H. M. White is buying tobacco at Dillwyn.

School Inspector Thomas is to visit the high school at this place this week.

A much needed stable or shed has been built on the high school lot to shelter horses used by pupils and teachers.

Mr. Jas Gillespie was found dead about two yards from his house last Wednesday. Death is supposed to have resulted from heart disease. Deceased had been county surveyor for a number of years and had been out doing some surveying and was returning home and had gotten to fence, over which he must have climbed, as one of his feet was resting on the fence when he was found. Mr. Gillespie was 78 years old and is survived by three sons and two daughters.

Some people burned and sawed and hedged last week but the land was rather wet. Outside able plowing and clearing up was done.

Mr. Arch Shoemaker, son of Mr. F. Shoemaker, was married to miss Jamieson at Dillwyn on Sunday last.

The summer school of Washington's birthday will be graced by the pupils of the high school. Misses Charleton and Patteson each read an essay which showed careful preparation, and deserve special mention, while the pupils in the primary department delighted the audience by the 'cute' manner in which they recited, and pupils who have been taking vocal music rendered two selections in very creditable style.

I am in receipt of a letter from Texas saying they had had no really cold days there this winter that strawberries had been on market all winter and that they now have ripe tomatoes on the market. This sounds like a dream when I can hardly keep warm so I write by a big log fire and the mercury only 30 degrees above zero and snow on the ground everywhere.

A colored man who is very reliable tells me there is a movement on foot to organize laborers and make a uniform charge of $1 a day for ordinary work. The colored house girls in Philadelphia are asking for $1.50 a day and I see from the city papers northern cities are not so much in love with them now.

O'Mohunidro.

As nothing has been seen or heard from this place for some time I will give you a few items.

We are having good weather now. Mr. P. C O'Mohundro, Perce, as he is better known by his friends, spent Saturday at this place with his friends.

Miss Ella Robertson, of Buford is visiting this week at the home of Mrs. H D. O'mohundro.

Miss E. P alrice Morriss is spending quite a while with friends in Lynchburg.

We are sorry to relate that Mrs. Gibson is still confined to her room.

Miss Mattie O'mohundro will leave for Lynchburg Wednesday, on a short visit to friends.

The Summer Schools of the University of Virginia.

It is encouraging to learn that the Summer School of the University of Virginia is to be greatly strengthened and improved next summer. The purpose is to leave the work of training lower grade teachers largely to the District Summer Schools and to direct the training at the University towards the needs of the following classes: First, those first grade teachers who have already attended the District Summer Schools; second, those teachers in high schools and academies who wish to review and advance their knowledge of special subjects; third, those principals and superintendents of schools who wish to acquaint themselves with the most practical and acceptable methods of school administration; fourth, those college students who are are not willing to waste three and a half months of time during the vacation, but who would come from all Southern Institutions to continue their studies if such opportunity be offered. There will also be offered, upon demand, certain advanced courses for college professors.

To illustrate the need for just this form of word at the University Summer School, Prof. Lyman, of the high school may be cited. There are probably 1000 high school teachers in Virginia who therefore were forced to go to Chicago, Columbia, or Harvard University to do summer work. The conference held next summer at the University of Virginia will include every subject taught in the high schools and academies, so that the best teachers in our State may receive instruction in their special subjects from a faculty equal to that of the Summer Schools of the best American Universities. The success of he Summer School under the new regime is assured and because of the forces behind it. The University faculty and authorities and the State Department of Education are united to assure its efficient organization and success.

It is much as the Knoxville Summer School is announced to have no session and because the teachers of the South and West will visit the Jamestown Exposition, the University Summer School will probably enroll a large number of students, especially since the needs of a larger number is provided for in its courses.

"Newspaper! Who has never felt the leisure that it brings!
It always tells of so many strange and wondrous things.
It makes us weep at tales of woe, it fills our hearts with mirth;
And when and where and why and
How such strange things occur on earth:
Has war's loud clarion called to arms?
Has Lightning struck a tree?
Has Jenkins broke his leg, or has there been a storm at sea?
Has an earthquake shook the earth or a new comet seen?
Or has some heiress with her groom gone off to Gretna Green?
All this and nothing more
You from the newspaper alone."

In a recent issue of the TIMES some correspondent was speaking of the delights of a country home in winter. The comparative leisure, blazing wood fires, and the delights of the long winter evening, and we add plenty of good literature. Our town and city neighbors have many advantages over their country cousins which we fear many of them fail to appreciate. What privilege to be where one can get to church every Sunday and prayer meeting during the week, to be convenient where our children can go to Sabbath School every Sunday, and not miss a day from school during an entire term and then to enjoy daily papers. Only those who are debarred from such privelege can fully appreciate them. The R. F. D Service has done much for country folks, and there is no greater pleasure than the daily trip to the mail box, and the weekly visit of the TIMES for assuredly we learn a little of everything from its newscolumns.

Well "all is quiet along the Potomac," except a ripple on the surface of some sickness with colds and lagrippe.

Our faithful mail carrier had a day off Friday and no doubt he enjoyed the rest.

If our Appomattox correspondents don't wake up Buckingham will leave us 'barking up a tree.' I wish Southside would write every week. Her letters are so bright and interesting.

In Cumberland.

As I sit this bright and beautiful morning ruminating over the past, a sad thought weighs heavily upon my mind, and I ask that I may drop a tear upon the mound that covers the last remains of a life long friend, who departed this life on Feb. 16th, 1907, and while I realize my inability to do reverence to one so honorable and true, yet I feel I would be derelect in duty to let such a noble life pass untouched by this pen.

The life and character I wish to comment upon was that of Mrs. Charlie LeSturgeon (nee Miss Page Quigley) who has passed over the river, and I believe is resting under the shade of the trees of Life Immortal. She was so sympathetic and kind, to 'know her was to love her.' As a friend she was ever true and loyal, in her relation wife and mother, no one could be more fond and faithful than she in her devotion to those to whom she was thus tenderly allied She had only been married fourteen months and the summons was overwhelmingly sad and appalling to the kind and devoted husband for such a short time before had shared her bright and genial companionship. I have known dear Page from childhood and she was marked by all womanly virtues, by a cheerful gentleness of grace and dignity that distinguish and adorns the woman. How sad the parting, how silent the home, how deep the bereavement. Oh Heaven will more than recompense them. She was only 22 years of age, and will be missed by us all.

To her husband we extend our sincere sympathy, and may God greatly bless and comfort him in this his sorest grief.

A FRIEND.

Neglected Colds Threaten Life.

"Don't trifle with a cold," is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the change is a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of th year is neglected cold. Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given.
